

BIOGRAPHY: Ryan Seely, co-host of Garden Time

Ryan Seely joined the Garden Time TV show at the end of its 14th season in 2019 and he is excited to be a part of the Garden Time crew for its 15th season on local television.

As a sixth generation native Oregonian, Ryan grew up in Wilsonville and graduated from Oregon State University (go Beavs!) with a Bachelor of Science in business. Immediately following graduation, he joined with two other partners to establish a local retail garden center in the Wilsonville and North Plains areas. After fourteen years, Ryan transitioned to the wholesale side of the garden industry and is currently the Sales Manager at Little Prince of Oregon in Aurora.

As a child, he was always drawn to farming and gardening, choosing to work in the three acre family garden or playing in his grandfather's onion farm in Salem. After graduating from Oregon State, Ryan furthered his plant education by taking several horticulture classes at Clackamas Community College, and remains active in the gardening community by attending local gardening events, conferences, and trade shows. He particularly enjoys the new and emerging trends in the gardening industry.

When not gardening in his own yard, Ryan enjoys spending time in the outdoors hiking, camping, skiing, and traveling with his wife Kim, and their two children. He also volunteers with the Leukemia Lymphoma Society and with the Boy Scouts of America as an Assistant Scoutmaster.

Ryan Seely is the co-host of Garden Time, the #1 gardening show in Oregon and Washington. Garden Time has aired on local TV stations, from March to November, every year since 2006. He is also the Sales Manager at Little Prince of Oregon in Aurora.
